

The IAC program supports ITP's Save Energy Now initiative, part of DOE's National campaign, "Easy Ways to Save Energy", unveiled by Secretary of Energy Samuel W. Bodman. Save Energy Now will provide U.S. industry with technical assistance and information to immediately save energy and money, in addition to reducing operating costs and increase productivity right now. For more information, go to www.eere.energy.gov/industry/saveenergynow.

A Strong Energy Portfolio for a Strong America

Energy efficiency and clean, renewable energy will mean a stronger economy, a cleaner environment, and greater energy independence for America. Working with a wide array of state, community, industry, and university partners, the U.S. Department of Energy's Office of Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy invests in a diverse portfolio of energy technologies.
